

Never face a big diagnosis alone

with 1-on-1 navigation

When facing an overwhelming or confusing diagnosis, having the right person in your corner can make all the difference. The Genomic Life team shows up in those moments that matter most.

Cancer treatment & survivorship

If you're diagnosed with cancer, it can feel like the world stops. That's when our team jumps into action. Get 1-on-1 help understanding your options, finding specialists, preparing for doctors' visits, and overcoming barriers.

→ We also support survivors navigating regular screenings, ongoing side effects, lingering anxiety, and more.

Other serious conditions influenced by genetics

Get in-depth, 1-on-1 support for more than 100 heart, metabolic and other conditions. We can help you understand your genetic risk or condition and even coordinate directly with your doctors.

Caregiving for a loved one

If you're the main caregiver for someone with cancer or another genetic condition, there's a lot resting on your shoulders. Our team can help you maintain your own well-being while supporting your loved one.

50% of people with cancer struggle to coordinate care.¹

1.5X higher likelihood of completing cancer treatment when working with a navigator.²

24% fewer hospital readmissions for cardiac patients who work with a navigator.³

Navigation support has been shown to decrease caregiver anxiety.⁴

Feel confident, no matter what life brings.

Genomic Life's health navigators tailor each conversation to your unique needs—whether it's a single call to address a specific question, many discussions over 3-4 months to support you through diagnosis and treatment, or longer-term support for more complex or lengthy medical issues.
